Brief Description

Specialist trade-oriented, informative, always at the heart of things: Elektromarkt is a trade magazine for the home electronics trade – we are aimed primarily at people in the electrical appliance retail sector and companies in the home and consumer electronic sectors.

As one of the oldest trade magazines in the industry, Elektromarkt is the competent mouthpiece between manufacturers and retailers. To efficiently support specialist retailers in customer orientation at the point of sale, we focus on new devices and product trends with changing thematic priorities.

In addition to product innovations and trends, we offer retail and industry expertise with reports, interviews, sections such as "Im Test" and "Auf Empfang", as well as articles on specialist and retail topics, trade fairs, and companies.

Elektromarkt has four key communication points each year: at the start of the year, in late spring, right ahead of the leading trade fair IFA, and before the start of the seasonal business. Every quarter, our readers receive the most important industry updates, clearly presented and rich in content with four print editions. In addition, with our two EXTRA issues, we set two further targeted content focuses, such as the topic of smart homes.

But we are not only present in print: Our Elektromarkt homepage complements the print editions with daily updates. With the Elektromarkt newsletter, we offer another regularly published information platform. Our magazine is also present on social media: Visit us on LinkedIn and stay informed!
